THE WARRIORS

ABOUT THE AUTHOR:

Lindsay Tanner was Federal MP for Melbourne from 1993 to 2010 and Finance Minister from 2007 to 2010.

Since retiring from politics he has worked as a company director and corporate advisor, and served as President of Essendon Football Club from 2015 to 2020.

Lindsay has previously published nine books, including the ground-breaking expose of the media in "Sideshow", and two previous novels in the Jack van Duyn series.

SALES POINTS

- Ideal for readers passionate about social politics.
- Lindsay Tanner is a well-known public figure in Australia, who writes political and social commentary fiction.
- An incisive thriller about gender, crime and violence in society.
- A standalone novel to accompany Tanner's previous books in the Jack van Duyn series.

Lindsay Tanner is a former Federal Minister for Finance, AFL football club Chairman, public intellectual, influencer and commentator turned storyteller. His fiction is not just a story, it addresses some of our most enduring and important social issues.

Knockabout Melbourne taxi driver Jack van Duyn has hit rock bottom. His taxi business has gone bust, he's been evicted again, and his friends have emigrated.

He is forced to go back to uni and enrol in Gender Studies, and finds himself enlisted to infiltrate the Warriors, a secretive men's group dedicated to harassing women who've separated from their violent partners. Their prime target is his new co-tenant Anita, a sex-worker who Jack commits to protect.

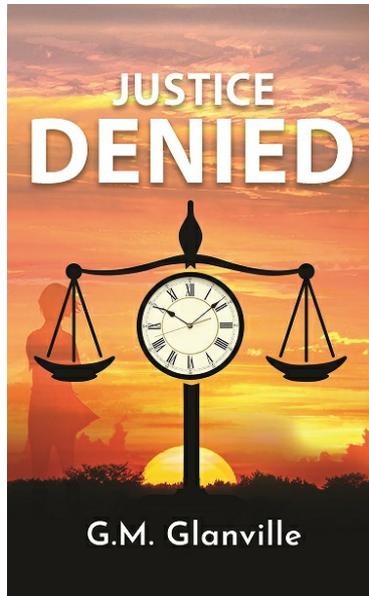

The Warriors explores the appalling realities of male violence against women, the twisted mentalities that impel otherwise ordinary men to extremes of brutality and murder, and the challenges facing decent men caught in a bewildering maze of rapidly changing gender roles and expectations.

JUSTICE DENIED

G.M. Glanville

SALES POINTS

- A great Australian yarn with a twist that will leave you guessing until the very last chapter!
- Set in several Australian towns and regions including Toowoomba and the Darling Downs, the Gold Coast, and Brisbane.
- This enthralling read includes all the elements of a bestselling Australian title—murder, manipulation, deceit, tenacity, honour, action and romance!

Will the consequences of a turbulent and misguided childhood ruin Marion Kent's life, or those closest to her?

After a string of vengeful acts, someone wants justice, and someone will pay the ultimate price for the past, but who will it be?

ABOUT THE AUTHOR:

Geoff Glanville was born in Brisbane and is a retired property professional. While he has contributed many articles to industry magazines and the general press on this subject, "Justice Denied" is his first work of dramatic fiction.

Geoff started his career in property on the Darling Downs as a cadet rural valuer in 1970, and the characters he met there influenced him to set his work, in part, in this region.

His Covid lockdown experience, coincided with an unexpected cancer diagnosis followed by the recurrence of an earlier cancer; a battle he had hoped he had already won. These events gave Geoff cause to reflect on his life's achievements, and to retrieve and complete his book that he started some 15 years earlier.

ARENA

Michael Whaite

SALES POINTS

- An engaging story about taking the right paths in life, knowing whom to trust & perseverance
- Publisher's Weekly called Arena an excellent though edgy contribution to the genre.
- Ideal for readers who love Lord of the Rings, and speculative fiction
- Offers extra depth for those ready to embark on a spiritual journey within the story.
- Explores the sense of belonging and the nature of angelic conflict
- Special 20th Anniversary edition of this award-winning book

Transported surreptitiously to a terrifying alien world, with limited resources and only a few cryptic words to guide her, Callie Hayes finds herself engulfed in a perilous battle for freedom – for her very life.

After agreeing to participate in a routine psychology research experiment, she must unravel the mysteries shrouding her only route of escape or risk succumbing to the deadly deception of the Arena.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR:

Karen Hancock has won Christy Awards for each of her first four novels—Arena and the first three books in the Legends of the Guardian King series, The Light of Eidon, The Shadow Within, and Shadow over Kiriath. She graduated from the University of Arizona with bachelor's degrees in biology and wildlife biology. Along with writing, she is a semi-professional watercolorist and has exhibited her work in a number of national juried shows. She and her family reside in Arizona.

A SHORT HOPEFUL GUIDE TO CLIMATE CHANGE

Oisín McGann

SALES POINTS

- A positive, encouraging book for children about the climate fight, published in association with Friends of the Earth Ireland.
- Climate anxiety has been identified as a major threat to young people's health (Wu et al., The Lancet, 2020) and this book has specifically been developed to both address the serious issue of climate change and alleviate the paralysis of fear.
- Author Oisín McGann was Irish Writer-in-Residence for the Weather Stations project; a new global project which places literature and storytelling at the heart of the conversations around climate change.

What is Climate Change? How can it be stopped? And what can you do to help the fight?

Oisín McGann explains Climate Change science and encourages readers to be a part of positive change by getting involved in the global movement to fight humanity's biggest challenge.

Published in association with Friends of the Earth Ireland. 10% of the cover price of each copy sold goes to Friends of the Earth. Printed by Ashley House on 100% recycled FSC paper, with fully-biodegradable vegan inks and no plastic packaging, this book is part of the solution.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR:

Oisín McGann is one of Ireland's leading writers and illustrators of books for children and young adults.

McGann's work weaves fantasy worlds with real issues, allowing young readers to consider often serious social and personal consequences. McGann's writing and illustrations are a stimulating catalyst for young writers to explore the metaphorical landscape of how to write imaginatively and provokingly about climate change - in a way that will actively engage young readers

THE CAT AND THE DEVIL

James Joyce, Illustrated by Lelis

SALES POINTS

- Written by Ireland's greatest writer, author of the Modernist masterpiece Ulysses, James Joyce. This gorgeously illustrated new edition brings back this delightful children's story, which has long been out of print in English.
- Hardback gift edition with gorgeous illustrations. Huge appeal for Joyce fans.
- UK release was a major publishing event

A delightful children's story by James Joyce, author of Ulysses, in a gorgeously illustrated new edition. On 10 August 1936, James Joyce wrote a letter to his grandson Stephen. In the letter he told, in simple language, the story of how the Devil built a bridge across the river at the town of Beaugency. As usual, the Devil wanted a high price for his gift. But the clever mayor of the town outwitted the Devil by making use of the Devil's fondness for cats. It was an old French story but Joyce gave the mayor the name of a famous mayor of his own home town of Dublin in Ireland: the popular politician and character, Alfie Byrne. The story has since been published in picturebook form, but it has long been out of print in English. This gorgeously illustrated new Little Island edition brings back the delightful children's story written by Ireland's greatest writer, author of the Modernist masterpiece Ulysses, James Joyce.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR: James Augustine Aloysius Joyce (2 February 1882 - 13 January 1941) was an Irish novelist and poet. He contributed to the modernist avant-garde and is regarded as one of the most influential and important authors of the 20th century. Joyce is best known for Ulysses (1922), a landmark work in which the episodes of Homer's Odyssey are paralleled in an array of contrasting literary styles, perhaps most prominent among these the stream of consciousness technique he utilised. Other well-known works are the short-story collection Dubliners (1914), and the novels A Portrait of the Artist as a Young Man (1916) and Finnegans Wake (1939).

THE BABOON WITH THE GOLDEN BUM

Jed Lynch

SALES POINTS

- Another hilarious, and yet very serious investigation led by Seamus the private detective. Who said turkeys couldn't solve mysteries?
- This second book in the incredibly funny The Free Range Detective Agency series also works as a standalone.
- 'I laughed so much I laid an egg. GENIUS.' Dustin the Turkey

A brand new instalment of The Free Range Detective Agency series. Seamus the turkey detective is once again desperate for a new case.

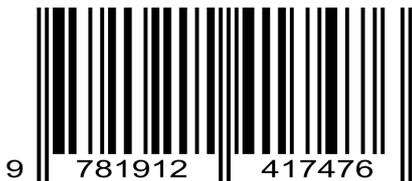

When security breaches threaten two-time Business Monkey of the Year baboon Frank Bloombum's top-secret money-making facilities, the Free Range Detective Agency is called to the rescue.

Who might be responsible? The baboon, the jackal, the newt, the toad? And what about that other toad Frank accidentally flushed down the toilet all those years ago?

It's a hard case, but Seamus can count on his friends, a meerkat and a mole, to help him crack it.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR:

Jed Lynch is a human author from Cork. The Free Range Detective Agency is the first thing that he has co-written with a turkey. # THE END OF THE GAME

Michael Fiddian

SALES POINTS

- This powerful YA novel tackles the difficult issue of how it is that Australians can appreciate Indigenous athletes but still hold intrinsically racist attitudes.
- A great read for sports fans or anyone who cares about discrimination and injustice.
- Debut novelist Michael Fiddian has previously written an award-winning play entitled 'The Kids Are Alright'.

A novel about the racism and the racist attitudes experienced by young Indigenous Australians who are revered for their footy skills, but only as long as they stick to the footy field.

This novel tackles one of the big issues for Australian sport and society by highlighting how a footy (Aussie Rules) player is revered for his skills on-the-field, versus how he is treated as a young Indigenous male in his home town.

An enlightening read for young adults, sports lovers and those who care about discrimination and injustice.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR:

Michael Fiddian is a History and English teacher who lives in Melbourne. Coming from a family whose idea of fun on a weekend was to go to the local library, it was inevitable that he would end up writing a book.

Starting his writing career in primary school and then sporadically writing plays and articles over the subsequent decades, he has written internationally produced short and full length plays, with his YA play 'The Kids Are Alright' being nominated for best new play at the 2014 CONDA Awards in Newcastle.

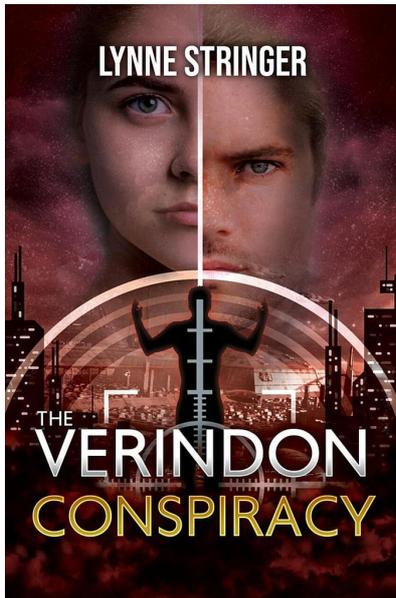

As a teacher, he is passionate about the education of young Australians, and overcoming discrimination and injustice, and is glad to see the rising appreciation of the contribution that Aboriginal AFL players make to the game.

Michael lives in Melbourne with his wife and two children, wants kids to read more, and wants the world to be a better place. 'The End of the Game' is his first full length novel for young adults.
